Genetic counselling in practice:
psychological and ethical aspects

18th January 2013, 9:00-16:30

Cinema hall („Kinosál”), 2nd floor, directorate building,
Teaching Hospital Motol, V Úvalu 84, Praha 5 – Motol

Third year of course for staff dealing with genetic patients (nurses, physicians, medical students…)

Specialized guarantors: Prof. MUDr. Milan Macek jr., DrSc.
Prim. MUDr. Markéta Havlovicová

9.00-9.30 Introduction
Prof. MUDr. Milan Macek jr., DrSc.
Prim. MUDr. Markéta Havlovicová

9.30-10.30 Ethics of genetic counseling
Mgr. Marek Orko Vácha, PhD.

10.30-11.00 Epigenetics
Doc. MUDr. Taťána Maříková, CSc.

11.00-11.45 Psychosocial aspects of autism spectrum disorders
Prim. MUDr. Markéta Havlovicová, Kazi Perchta Pátá

12.00-12.30 Genetic counseling in assisted reproduction
MUDr. Bc. Jelena Černíková

12.30-13.00 Ethical dilemmas in screening for CF
MUDr. Andrea Holubová, MUDr. Veronika Krulišová

13.00-14.00 Prestávka na oběd

14.00-14.30 Transactional analysis
MUDr. Martina Simandlová

14.30-15.00 Psychosocial and ethical issues in families with hereditary cancer predisposition
MUDr. Alena Puchmajerová

15.00-15.45 Coping with the genetic diagnosis
MUDr. Václava Curtisová, Msc.

15.45-16.30 Crisis intervention
MUDr. PhDr. Hansmanová Lenka

16.30 End of the course

On behalf of organizing committee you are cordially invited by Martina Simandlová and Wendy Curtisová.